EDITORIAL NOTES.

The New York Tribune has in its columns a department called the "Broadway Note-book," containing the "personal notes and notions of a Broadway lounge." He has the following to say of Nevada's senior Senator:

I hear that Senator John P. Jones is moderately rich again, and, if it is a fact, nobody regrets it, as it is a kind, equal nature, liberal and quaint and respectful of all people's feelings. Washington McLean told me that he considered him the ablest man in the Senate, although too indolent to be ambitious, and giving away to other people the suggestions that fly out of him like chaff from a threshing floor.

In the early days, when Jones mined at the foot of Carson Hill, Calaveras county, he was considered the laziest man in the camp. He was noted for shirking the household duties that devolve upon men who are "bachelors," and would starve before he would build a fire to cook food, and choke to death with thirst rather than go to the spring for water.

Dakota is excited over the proposition to move the capital of the Territory from Yanktown, in the extreme southeastern corner, to a point more geographically central. It is proposed to put the capital up at auction, with the reservation that no bids will be considered which do not include a donation in lands or money sufficient to erect a State House worth $100,000. Our Carson contemporaries will no doubt say this proposition originated in Reno and that we want to experiment on Dakota in order to have a precedent two years hence.

The Carson Index and Tribune are continually at war. A young man recently from the East, who has peeled the banana in a social way this winter in the "best circles," is at present the bone of contention. The Index calls the Tribune a blackmailer, and the Tribune retorts by saying the "editor of the Index is a spla-footed pauper and cowardly cur." The journalistic barometer at Carson seems to indicate a storm.

Cassius M. Clay of Kentucky has a theory that "forests, which are cool in the warmest weather, lower the temperature by their constant evaporation; a cool current from the forest area striking the rain clouds precipitates the water. Where the forests are destroyed the rain clouds pass along without distributing their contents."

Governor Adams has vetoed the bill appropriating $1,000 to pay the expenses of a commissioner to Washington to secure an appropriation for the improvement of the Colorado river.

The national debt is now less than sixteen hundred million dollars. The Reno Dramatic Club propose to get up a benefit and wipe out the whole claim at once.

The name of Senator John F. Miller of California has been hailed out as a chance candidate for the next Republican President.

San Francisco is being fast depopulated, so many people are falling down steep embankments for want of street-lights at night.

Over 70,000 plants have been distributed by the Department of Agriculture during the past year.

The law requiring Commissioners to give bonds affects Storey and Eureka counties only.

The Central Pacific railroad company will pay a dividend of 25 cents per share to-day.

A Man Who Couldn't be Alone.

CHICAGO, March 15.
 On the 8th inst., at New York, Mrs. Digby V. Bell was granted a divorce and alimony, with the proviso that her husband should not marry again. It now transpires that on the 11th Mr. Bell registered here with a new wife known to the stage as Miss Laura Joyce. Bell explains that the prohibition against marriage only applied to New York, and that he was married to Miss Joyce in Pennsylvania.

Stockwell & Andrews, the defaulting managers of the San Francisco Opera House, are in New York.

A Chinese Actor Who Has a Rich Voice and Gets a Good Salary.

PHILADELPHIA, March 15.
 A Chinaman named Loo Chin Goon, who is regarded among celestials on this side of the Pacific as the most prominent actor who has ever delighted a Chinese audience in San Francisco, arrived here this morning, and was received by a delegation of his countrymen. Among the number was So Lum Lee, his cousin, who keeps a tea store. The actor is a large, powerfully-built man and wears spectacles. His dress did not differ from that of any ordinary laundryman out for a holiday. His eye brightened up and he stepped a trifle quicker when he saw the quintet of Mongolians who awaited him at the depot. He kissed Lee upon the cheek and received a similar token of affection. Having received his illustrious cousin in what he supposed was the proper style, Lee removed a standing linen collar which encircled his neck. This done, the party went to Lee's store, where they sipped tea, ate sweetmeats and received scores of his fellow-countrymen during the afternoon and evening. He has a rich, full voice and speaks very fair English. Lee declares that Goon talks English better than any one he ever knew. Goon said he had been an actor for twenty-six years. He is now 41 years old. Thirteen years of his career has been spent as a sterling player in China. One of the Chinese companies in San Francisco offered him $5,000 per annum, and he made his first American appearance at the Jackson Street theater, and for three years he has received a very fair percentage of all the profits. He has seen many English dramatic productions and judging from the contemptuous way he shrugged shoulders when speaking of them, they do not come up to his standard of excellence. Goon once saw McCullough play "Virginius," and praised the performance very much, but is of the opinion that the play is much inferior to a Chinese drama of the same kind.

An Extensive German Colonizing Scheme in Mexico.

NEW YORK, March 15.
 The Herald says: Besides the agents employed by Prince Bismarck in London to negotiate for the purchase of 10,000,000 acres of land in Mexico, it has been learned that the Prime Minister has also a very active representative engaged in the same business. So many Germans are annually emigrating to the new world that the German Government desires to purchase land for the purpose of settling a colony, in order to keep German emigrants as much as possible under the supervision of the Government and control of German laws. Negotiations are pending for other 9,000,000 acres, some of which are located on the coast of the Gulf of Mexico. Dr. Billack will sail for Europe on the Arizona Tuesday next in order to further consummate his plans. A syndicate of English capitalists is interested in the scheme.

South Carolina Lawyers Quarrel—A Duel Imminent.

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 14.
 A duel is imminent between Colonel W. L. Youmans and Captain L. B. O'Brien, lawyers of Barnwell. A short time ago they had a quarrel in the court-room at Barnwell when Youmans called O'Brien a liar, and the latter slapped Youmans' face. Next day Youmans challenged O'Brien to fight a duel, but acceptance was evaded by O'Brien. Youmans then posted O'Brien as a liar and coward. Yesterday warrants were issued and both were bound over to keep the peace. It is now understood that O'Brien accepted the challenge and that arrangements are being made for a hostile meeting in Georgia. Youmans was a member of the Legislature which passed the anti-challenge law now in force in this State, and was a warm advocate of the measure.

Suicide of a Noted Horse-thief and Murderer.

ST. LOUIS, March 15.
 H. F. Crocker, a notorious horse-thief, who suicided in a Texas jail a day or two ago, left a written statement that he was born and well-connected in Georgia; been in Texas since 1873; had killed three men and one woman during that time, and regretted that he could not kill two more men who had injured him; and that being without money or friends he preferred death to life in prison. He asked that his body be thrown in the river, and that no word of his miserable end should be sent to his relatives.

The Sutor Family.

NEW YORK, March 15.
 The 80th birthday of Mrs. Rosa Sutor, mother of Adolph Sutor of Sutor tunnel fame, was celebrated yesterday. Mrs. Sutor has 10 living children and the total number of her descendants is 51, of whom 36 were present.

Two Old Maids Buried.

HARTFORD, Conn., March 15.
 The house of two maiden ladies named Judson, at East Hartford, was burned this morning, and both perished in the flames.

A South American Republic that Has Been Trodden Under Foot.

NEW YORK, March 15.
 Rear-Admiral Garcia, of the Peruvian navy, was seen at the Victoria Hotel yesterday prior to his departure for Liverpool and questioned concerning the progress of recent events in Peru. The Peruvian navy, he says, no longer exists. After gallant service it succumbed to the superior force of the Chilean fleet and was heroically blown up in a vain attempt to prevent the landing of Chilean armies. After reviewing incidents of the war, Garcia said: "Peru is in the hands of Chile. Chileans seized upon the revenue, they collect taxes and levy new ones; they hold the land simply by armed occupation, and they have closed the schools, refusing an appropriation for them; have sacked libraries and art galleries and transferred the booty to Chile. The region of guano and nitrate deposits, which, together with public revenues, were mortgaged to pay the foreign debt, is in their hands. The truth is, the Chileans do not want peace and will never conclude peace unless compelled to do so by a pressure of moral or physical force from the outside. Minister Logan seems to follow in the footsteps of Hurlbut. At the very time of President Arthur's message, wherein he pronounced the terms that Chile undertook to exact from Peru altogether too onerous, Logan was negotiating with Calderon, urging him to accede to these very terms."

The Ex-Treasurer of the Land League.

NEW YORK, March 15.
 Egan will remain in New York till next week. He is much harassed by reporters. He said Parnell would soon be here. He also eulogized Parnell, and declared he was one of the ablest managers in the world.

NEW YORK, March 15.

A large number of personal political friends called to see Patrick Egan today, among others being his cousin, Rev. Mr. Egan of Tarrytown, N. Y. Many letters of welcome to this country have been received by Egan from prominent men of the Land League in all parts of the United States. One of these letters is from Mrs. Parnell, in which she most warmly welcomes him, and says: "I hope your visit to America will be the means of uniting all the strength and intelligence of the Irish race in a solid and harmonious body, for the daily continual and practical advance of the Irish nation toward its rights and ultimate place and sphere of active freedom and prosperity."

The Diamond Mine Horror Near a Solution.

BRAIDWOOD, Ills., March 15.
 Only six and a half feet of water remain to be pumped out of the Diamond mine. The water now coming out must be directly from the place where the bodies lie, as it bears an insufferable stench, and the men at the pumps are obliged occasionally to move away from its influence and go to the fresh air. From this it is surmised that the bodies are horribly decomposed.

Two Miners Killed.

MANKATO, Minn., March 15.
 John Meeker, a Hungarian, was killed by a fall of a coal wall in the Leigh colliery this morning. His lamp exploded and before the body could be taken out it was burned to a crisp.

WHITEHALL, N. Y., March 15.

John Benan, a miner, thawing out powder at Mineville this morning, was instantly killed.

The New York Milk War.

NEW YORK, March 15.
 The milk war makes no perceptible difference in the supply and demand. There is a movement among the Germans of Brooklyn for the formation of a Platt Deuche settlement in Kansas. Fifteen families have pledged themselves to undertake it, and it is expected the colony will consist of at least 25 families.

Henry George the Candidate of a New Party.

NEW YORK, March 15.
 The Jeffersonian Club of Newark, N. J., nominates for President Henry George. They call for a general convention and say: "We have good reasons for thinking that the movement started here and elsewhere will eventuate in a national party before 1884."

Coaching Sherman for the Presidency.

WASHINGTON, March 15.
 Letters received here from members of the Ohio Legislature state that a movement is on foot to make Senator Sherman the Republican candidate for Governor with a view of placing him in an advantageous position for the Presidential nomination in 1884.

Collision—Steamer Burned.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., March 15.
 Last night the steamer Engineer, going up, collided with the Clara Cobler, coming down. The latter sunk to the boiler deck, caught fire and burned to the water's edge. All on board escaped.

An Ex-Egyptian.

NEW YORK, March 15.
 General Stone, late of the Egyptian army, returned from Washington last night and expresses his intention to remain in the United States.

The Boston Sluggard Apparently Anxious For Blood.

NEW YORK, March 15.
 John Sullivan, in Hill's saloon yesterday, smilingly said that he wished he could meet Slade and have $10,000 upon the result. "The truth is," said he, "I don't care to fight. It's neither part nor parcel of athletics, but really the newspapers compel me to fight by their taunts of cowardice. But I am ready to fight any man in the world for $10,000 a side and gate money." On driving away, the prize-fighter was greeted by the crowds with cheers. Sullivan was at Harry Hill's place last night and spoke to an admiring audience for an hour. He had evidently been drinking heavily. He spoke in disparaging terms of Fox, Mace and Slade and challenged them to stop their hippodrome business and go to Boston, where he would like to arrange a match for $5,000 or $10,000 a side.

John L. Sullivan, the pugilist, heated with wine, in a speech at Harry Hill's to-night, termed Slade a half-breed stiff, and Harry Hill said if Sullivan knew as much of Slade as he did he would not talk so.

The Star prints the acceptance of Sullivan's challenge to box Slade, signed by Fox, who says: "My representative will meet Sullivan, to arrange articles, any time after Sullivan holds his benefit at Boston. I understand that Sullivan is going to Europe, and I would say, if he desires to make his trip a success it will be advisable for him to meet Slade before he leaves."

'Tis Hard to Love.

MANKATO, Minn., March 14.
 This morning Carl Winter, of St. Paul, shot Lizzie Levi, of Mankato, and then shot himself. The wound of Miss Levi is not dangerous, but that of Winter's is considered fatal. Opposition of Miss Levi's father to their marriage is said to be the cause.

Gone Home to His Mother.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., March 15.
 Indignation over Dukes' acquittal is unabated. The jurors were publicly hissed and jeered this morning and left town as soon as possible. Dukes has gone home to his mother.

The Last of the Russian Chancellor.

BADEN BADEN, March 15.
 The funeral of the late Prince Gortschakoff took place from the Russian chapel here, yesterday. Physicians who attended the Prince say there were enough grounds to suspect he had been poisoned. The evidence of the Prince's mistress and his valet confirms the suspicions.
